Overseas award programmes enrich your future with scholarly and applied endeavours
Collaboration with Overseas Universities

Northumbria University, United Kingdom

- Student population of around 33,000 with 5,500 students studying abroad.
- Standard of education of the Newcastle Business School has been rated “excellent” by Higher Education Funding Council for England.

University of London International Programmes, United Kingdom

- Established in 1836, the University of London is truly one of the great universities of the world.
- Since 1858, University of London degrees have been accessible to students all over the world through the University of London International Programmes, the largest standing flexible and distance learning programmes in the world. Today, the University of London International Programmes is truly international in character with over 52,000 students in more than 190 countries.
- The University of London LLB has long been regarded as an “international gold standard” in legal education. For over 150 years it has provided the first step on a career route for many thousands of practising lawyers within the Commonwealth and around the world.

In an era of globalisation and fast environmental changes, some students prefer to study either overseas, or on programmes in Hong Kong offered by overseas universities. SPEED works with a couple of well-known overseas universities in offering their programmes in Hong Kong.

Flexibility and Choice

These overseas award programmes at SPEED include undergraduate programmes with a “Top-Up” arrangement, i.e., these programmes cater particularly for students with various academic backgrounds such as Associate Degree and Higher Diploma qualifications or relevant professional qualifications or equivalent, where their previous tertiary study may be recognised for admission purpose. Students enrolled on these undergraduate top-up programmes would normally require 1 to 3 years of study.

In collaboration with overseas partners, the School offers programmes which cover a variety of specialisms such as business management, human resource management, logistics and supply chain management, and law.

Student Activities

To facilitate all-round development of students, co-curricular activities are organised through the PolyU SPEED Student Affairs Committee. Students on some of the programmes may take part in activities such as professional workshops, talks and seminars.

Financial Assistance

Extended Non-means-tested Loan

Students enrolled on any of the School’s overseas programmes are eligible to apply for the Government’s Extended Non-means-tested Loan scheme. Applications are obtainable from the Student Financial Assistance Agency (Tel: 2150 6223; 24-hour Enquiry Hotline: 2802 2345; and website: www.sfaa.gov.hk).

Continuing Education Fund

Some programmes have been included in the list of reimbursable courses for Continuing Education Fund (CEF) purposes. Information on CEF and the details regarding the eligibility for claiming course fee reimbursement under CEF are available at the Office of Continuing Education Fund (Tel: 3142 2277 and website: www.sfaa.gov.hk/cef).

Application and Enquiries

Programme commencement dates and application periods vary across different programmes. Dates for new intake and semester cycle are listed for individual programmes. Application for admission has to be made on specific application forms obtainable from PolyU SPEED Offices during the application period. Some application forms are available on the website www.speed-polyu.edu.hk. Please contact PolyU SPEED at 3400 2828 for further information.

Programmes Leading to Overseas Academic Awards
可獲領海外大學
學術之課程

Introduction
PolyU SPEED is one of the two institutions in Hong Kong permitted to teach the Diploma in Law programme which prepares students for examinations leading to the award of the University of London. It provides an opportunity for students who:

- satisfy the normal entrance requirements for the Bachelor of Laws (LLB) degree to reach first-year undergraduate level without committing to a full degree;
- intend to take the LLB degree but would like to gain a recognised intermediate award; or
- may not have had the chance to meet the above 2 requirements but can demonstrate that they have the ability, motivation and maturity to study at this level.

Programme Structure
This preparatory programme consists of 4 compulsory courses. Students may choose to enrol on all 4 courses on the same occasion (one year), or by 2 stages, each consisting of 2 courses (two years).

- Common Law Reasoning and Institutions
- Elements of the Law of Contract
- Public Law
- Criminal Law

* Please refer to the prospectus of the University of London International Programmes for more information about the programme structure and syllabus.

Examinations
The examinations are usually held in May / June each year. Students need to apply for entry to the examinations. Application for entry to the examinations can be made through the Hong Kong Examinations and Assessment Authority.

Articulation
Graduates of Diploma in Law may gain direct entry to LLB Year 2.

Teaching and Learning Support
This Preparatory Programme is taught by full-time faculty from Advance Tertiary College (ATC), Malaysia and ITC School of Laws (ITC), Singapore. Each course consists of at least 60 hours of lectures and 20 hours of intensive revision. Mock examinations will be conducted in December and March. Students will further have 6 hours of legal research and English training.

Students will be provided with a set of comprehensive lecture notes for each chapter in every course on which they have enrolled. Apart from face-to-face teaching, students will also have access to the PolyU library, ATC and ITC online facilities. Teaching Mentor Student Assistance System as well as the University of London International Programmes study materials and Virtual Learning Environment (VLE). Guest lectures by academics from the University of London for selected courses may be arranged. Classes will be conducted during weekday evenings and over the weekend in PolyU computers.
